Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-9, drawn to a specific tank and filter, classified in class 123, subclass 196.
- II. Claims 10-12, drawn to a cutter and tank broadly, classified in class 30, subclass 383.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination of a branch cutter with a broadly claimed tank perhaps has novelty. The subcombination has separate utility such as with any portable I C power tool.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 3724

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
